

Coronavirus

The pandemic that changed the way people communicate

let's circle back on this

[lets sur-kuhl bak awn this]

phrase ● English

can we just not do this right now

correct me if I am wrong

[kuh-rekt mee if eye em rawng]

phrase • English

C'mon, we both know that

I am not wrong

as stated below

[az stey-tid bee-loh]

phrase • English

That has already been answered but clearly you are too lazy to scroll down and read the whole email

home office

[hohm aw-fiss]

noun ● English

a room or corner of a room in a person's residence where he or she works, often interrupted by lousy internet service, loud kids, pampered pets or naked spouses.

hope this helps

[hohp this hell-pss]

phrase ● English

please stop asking me to do your job for you jackass.

Abundance of caution

[Ah-bun-dunce uv kawshun]

phrase • English

I'm not saying we're scared but we don't want to scare you!

you're on mute

[yoor awn meyuut]

phrase ● English

how have you not figured this out yet?

just following up

[juh-st fah-low-wing uhp]

phrase ● English

You clearly thought I was joking when I asked you the first time.

per my last email

[purr m-eye laa-asst eemay-ill]

phrase ● English

repeatedly asking isn't going to change my previous answers

got your back

[gawt yer baak]

phrase • English

You go first and I'll wait right here!

Common sense

[kaw min sen-s]

noun • English

*A rare form of intelligence that 1 in 50 million people are born with
and you ain't that one.*

it is what it is

[it iz whut it iz]

phrase • English

used when a situation is out of your control and simply saying 'to hell with it' is not an option.

friendly reminder

[free-end-lee ree-myn-duhr]

phrase ● English

it's due tomorrow and we both know you'll be late getting it done.

unprecedented

[uhn-press-aw-dent-id]

adjective • English

I didn't pay attention to my history teacher, and I haven't read the after-action reports

as we discussed

[az wee dis-kust]

phrase • English

I am summarizing our conversation in writing to cover my ass. Don't make me hang you out to dry.

please advise

[pleez add-vyz]

phrase ● English

I'm washing my hands of this crap and dropping it in your lap.

In-person meeting

[mee-ting]

noun • English

a gathering to discuss something that could have been an email. Usually called just to piss you off.

let's take this off-line

[letz tayk this awf-lyen]

phrase • English

a passive-aggressive way of saying 'I don't want to discuss this with all of these witnesses present'

Questions?

The answers provided by this presenter are not the opinions of his employer, your employer, anyone else's employer or any self-respecting agency, organization or entity. Comments and opinions may be based on fact, fiction, altered reality or years of studying the idiotic way humans treat each other.